Prices are subject to change without notice. The pharmacy sets the price. We do not profit from sales of the medication.

Costs listed in the charts are for a month's supply or more, of the generic compounded form which includes shipping.

The approximate BUD will be 30-45 days when the patient receives it. (BUD is the expiration date).

Costs for Ozempic and Mounjaro are approximate, based on multiple sources.

Note that the generic Semaglutide has cyanocobalamin mixed with it. There are no alternatives to this formulation. If you suspect that you have an allergy or sensitivity you will probably want to avoid this and instead use the generic Tirzepatide (see below for prices)

The following article discusses the safety of cyanocobalamin.
